Appendix 2. Here, we presented the plot of the F_{ST} scores among populations against geographic distances among populations. The relationship between geographic distances and F_{ST} scores were tested by Mantel-test. The geographic distance was not clearly correlated by populational differentiation with coefficient of determination (R^2) = 0.0472. To avoid the bias probably affected by the ocean separation only Jeju-island populations were included.